Initial consultation

It is so important for us to discover how you want your dream day to unfold. At our first meeting, we can chat to your heart's content about any specific ideas that you have; together we can make this vision clear so that I can begin the crafting of your wedding ceremony.

Script creation

I will complete the first draft of the written script within four weeks of the consultation and the second draft within two weeks of discussing and receiving your amendments; the final draft of your wedding ceremony will be completed and printed one month prior to your wedding day

Conducting the Ceremony

I will be at your selected venue two hours before the scheduled start, ready to be at your service and to lead your much anticipated day. Afterwards, I will present you with a commemorative copy of your wedding ceremony script and a unique Latansani blessing certificate.
